TO BE GIVEN ATTENTION BY A GREAT WHILE.

Too Much Noise.

Complaints against noises caused by the railway engines shunting are not sufficiently general to warrant any action according to an investigation instituted by Commissioner of Health and Safety. At St. Louis, there are 100 engines at the depot. The test was made at 33 houses and of this number but 19 had any complaints to make. Therefore, no action will be taken. It was unwarranted to take any drastic measures to prevent any shunting at night. The noise is a benefit to the city.

question was made at a time when Hutton's mental state was such that he could be held responsible for what he was doing—that it is, as one of the cases puts it, the true last will and testament of the testator.

"Mr. Parker drew the will. He was the person present when the instructions were given. There are times for a great many legacies named in it, some of which are relatives of the testator. Mr. Parker says that he never heard of any of the legacies named in it, except the plaintiff, the executor, his

After taking these instructions in the morning Mr. Hutton left the office and returned to Hutton's house with it on the same evening for execution, being accompanied by two of his men.

Clear instructions as Mr. Hutton did not give any such instructions, as he said, "He gave me not the slightest indication of any nervousness whatsoever."

partners, Mr. Abbott and Mr. Mustard. He had, under the testator's instructions, left a space at the end of the will so that anything which Hutton decided in the meantime to add to it might be written in. On the day the testator instructed him to give the legacies which are now provided for by paragraph 9 of the will. With reference to his condition then Mr. Parlee says, "I would say exactly the same thing as I said about the way I found him in the morning. Even if I did not, as I do, know Mr. Parlee to be a most conscientious and thoroughly reputable member of the legal profession, I would unhesitatingly accept his evidence as exposing most accurately Hutton's condition on that day as it exhibited itself to him. I know of no one, except, of course, the skilled physician, so competent to judge of a man's fitness for the transaction of such business as a keen, well-trained, honest-minded lawyer. I believe implicitly every word that Mr. Parlee said as to Mr. Hutton's condition and as to what took place between them on both these occasions."

First Spoke is Bull.

It was to the defendant Bull, one of the executors, that Hutton first spoke on that day of having his will made. He told the plaintiff of his desire of her husband. She says that she at once remonstrated on the ground that her husband was unable to make a will. It is quite plain, however, that after Mr. Parlee got his instructions for the will he came downstairs and told the plaintiff of the testator's intentions with respect to her. She undoubtedly knew what he was there for and instead of protesting against it, seems to have acquiesced in it, a fact which is not without some significance. Between November 30, 1910 and January 4, 1911, Hutton, admittedly improved greatly. He got out of bed and after a time was able to go down town and transact business. On the 14th of January he went to Mr. Parlee's office and told him he had come to have some substitute for his wife as an executor as he did not want her to be bothered about it.

Was Named Executor.

She was named as one of the executors in the will which Mr. Parlee told him to have made on the date of its execution and which has been there ever since, this being the first occasion upon which Mr. Parlee had met him since then. Mr. Parlee got the will and handed it to Hutton, but is unable to say whether or not he read it. After some discussion in which other names were mentioned Mr. Parlee, at Hutton's request, agreed to act as executor and the codicil making the change and confirming the will in other respects was drawn up and executed.

Knew What He Was Doing

I have not the slightest doubt in the world but that Mr. Hutton on this occasion knew exactly what he was doing, and the fact materially strengthens my conviction that he thoroughly understood what he was doing when he made his will. He undoubtedly carried in his mind throughout the intervening five weeks the knowledge of the fact that he had made the will and that his wife was named as one of the executors of it, and this, so far at least as the evidence shows, without any refreshing of his recollection by any one. The making of the codicil was a repudiation of the will and even if that document lacked validity by reason of its having been made of capacity, I think that it had effectiveness imparted to it by what I consider his unquestionably sane and responsible act of the 4th of January. He transacted several other matters of business in Mr. Parlee's office that day, though not with him.

Case for Defence.

The defence called as witnesses about 20 people, the majority of whom had transacted business with the deceased and the others of whom had frequent opportunities of seeing and conversing with him. The period of time covered by this class of evidence was from September 1910 until the date of his death. Many of the transactions were of an important character. In each case the witness had come in contact with Hutton and he had an opportunity to observe his

Troubled With Weak

Back and Kidneys

For 10 Years.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back.

When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Take notice to the warning and cure the backache on the first day, for if you don't do this, serious complications are sure to arise and perhaps develop into Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the three most deadly forms of kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills will strengthen the weak back, and prevent any form of kidney trouble entering the system.

Mrs. Ed. Boyer, Nokomis, Sask., writes: "I have been troubled with weak back and kidneys. I had terrible dizzy headaches, and could not sleep at night. In this way I suffered for ten years, until I read about Doan's Kidney Pills. I purchased two boxes, and as they helped me I read for two more, they put me on my feet, and I have been able to work ever since."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

manner of doing business. The other witnesses of this class were people who had either engaged in deals of a minor character with him or who had met him and conversed with him frequently during the latter part of his life. They were for the most part people who had enjoyed some degree of familiarity with him for some time. The unanimous testimony of these people was that there was nothing in his manner or appearance or his mode of doing business that caused them to suspect in the slightest degree his capacity to transact business or take care of himself.

It is pointed out by counsel for the plaintiff that nearly every business transaction seems to be by these witnesses bears some evidence of some peculiarity in the testator's handling of it, and that, I think, is quite true. Each such peculiarity, however, is of a minor character.

Attended Business Accurately.

It is impossible for me to think that a man who could handle business matters of the importance of those dealt with by him for several months of his life with such accuracy, and who could mingle with those who had known him for years without betraying to them the fact that his mind was in the slightest degree affected, lacked the capacity to make a valid will at a time when no manifestations of his mental unsoundness were apparent. I can see nothing unreasonable in the will itself. With the exception of a legacy of $2,000 given to the daughter of his friend and executor, Bull, who was named after his wife, he kept his money within his family. He remembered his mother and his sisters and his nephews and nieces and his cousin. After paying three legacies and providing for the annuity to his mother and the costs of administration, there was approximately $140,000 left, the income of which the plaintiff was to get for the rest of her life, that is, of course, assuming that all of the property then standing in the testator's name was really his and that no disposition of any part of it had his knowledge in addition. Another man might have been more generous to his relatives, whilst still another man might have been exactly the reverse. I am unable to say that because this man, after making what strikes me as being not ungenerous and certainly quite ample allowance for her who he had the first claim upon him, saw fit to remember those for many of whom he himself ultimately felt a great affection, by reason of that fact mentally unsound to such an extent as the plaintiff alleges.

Foundation of Fortune.

It is urged that the will is unfair to the plaintiff because the evidence discloses the fact that her money was the foundation of his fortune. So long as human nature is what it is, men will be forgetful of what they owe to others, and men will differ in their views as to what is really due to others. I would hesitate to attribute to mental irresponsibility a failure upon any man's part to measure up to the standard in this respect that others might set for him, unless such failure was marked by so extreme a degree of unreasonableness as to lead irresistibly to that conclusion. It may perhaps be that some explanation of the fact that between the date of his will and the date of his death he made over to her property valued at $42,000 may be found in his conclusion that the will did not adequately provide for her. I think, but am not sure, that Mr. Hutton put this view forward in argument. Whether or not he did, the solution of it, of course, can only mean that he both knew and appreciated what testamentary provision he had made for her. She seems to have accepted and adopted these transfers as being the acts of a sane man, a position consistent with her own testimony as to his testamentary capacity except upon the theory that in her view a portion of this property was really her own."

the building inspector for structures on First street, Queen's avenue and the west side of Fraser avenue, north as far as the boulevard, unless such permits call for buildings of a class demanded in the first class fire limit. Applications for buildings of other character must be referred to the city commissioners. And on Tuesday evening next the city council will be asked to pass a bylaw extending the first class fire limits to take in that area. This procedure is for the purpose of preventing the springing up of a number of cheap shanty buildings incident to the development of the city on the First street site.

Building Inspector Melvor has called attention of the commission board to the likelihood of a number of applications for second class building permits being made for this territory in order to get ahead of the proposed extension of the first class limits. In order to prevent this the above action was taken this morning by the board.

J. M. Randall, at one time assistant to the street railway superintendent, has brought action against the city to collect $100, alleged due him from the department on the grounds of wrongful dismissal. The city solicitor reported on the matter stating that Randall had been dismissed for no reason, but on the ground of his position so far as he could learn, in June. In July Mayor Short gave him a job in the city hall as draftsman, or something like that, and that this job had lasted until November 15. The solicitor recommended that the claim be settled and the matter was referred to Utility Commissioner John Chalmers.

After having ridden the bus for over a year and caused considerable public comment, the sum of $3,075.00 on the deficit side of the stores and works department ledger was this morning transferred as charges against the engineering and water departments, and the item thereby liquidated. The figure represents material and used from the south side stores and works by said departments.

DUNNY'S DOPE

"Jimmie" Steel will be out with the Pennants tonight in his usual position. Jimmie's "shooting arm," his left, has been in the splits for the past week, from the result of his accident two weeks ago.

"Pots" Newman will play the center position with the Pennants tonight to-night against Varsity, and should be a tower of strength to the team. It will be his first game this season, but he has been at all practices and is in good shape.

Old Timers and Varsity are billed for a basketball game Saturday night on the Varsity floor. Just what the outcome will be is hard to say, as Old Timers are handicapped ten points, and the Varsity crew are a hard team to beat on their own floor. Our guess is that the students will win.

"Young Lynne is just a pocket edition" of Johnny Maltz," said Jimmie Steel yesterday. "They sure would make a great pair." Lynne's name has become a household word since the game Wednesday night.

"HUP" Tait says the McDougalls will beat the Varsity basketball team when they meet on the "C" floor. The students' handball team got a 25-15 defeat last Saturday night, and are very apt to repeat the dose.

"We're going to try and put the game on ice, in the early stages," said Jimmie Steel today, when asked about the Pennant-Varsity hockey game at the south-side rink tonight. "With our line-up, we can lick the Varsity, but we ought to present a much stronger lineup," said Pearce.

Blisswood Duncan, the penal secretary at the Y.M.C.A., spent a busy afternoon yesterday, giving the various athletic shields and trophies their annual shine-up. This is about the nearest "Dunk" ever came to getting any "silverware" volley-ball being his most strenuous pastime.

Next Wednesday night's game in the Brackman-Ker trophy will be a big crowd, after the result of last night's game. Looking at it from this distance it looks like Eskimos all the way. On last night's form, they are unbeatable, and if they can furnish another such contest, the Brackman-Ker trophy for 1914 will be safely tucked away.

Manager Pearce of the Pennants, has enough faith in his team to win a dozen games. He has already figured out the winning strategy against Varsity, and is planning for the future. "I believe," says "Pittie" Newman on the team at center, we can lick the Pennants for the city championship," he stated yesterday to the Capital.

It is said that trouble is brewing in the Dominion's camp, and that when the suggestion was made to put someone else in Leo Cook's place, that Lloyd headed off any such move, by stating that if Leo went off he would go also, and so there you are—they both stuck. Leo has scored but one goal this season.

No one would ever think of accusing Barney Stanley, the scurrying corner of the Dominion, of having a "struck" but he sure did "let up" stand after the Sutherland boys "shut" him a few times in Wednesday night's game. It is said, the Eskimos were out to "get" him.

It is generally understood that lawyers are great "fighters" and that ministers believe in "turning the other cheek," but from accounts of basketball game between the Alberta College Theologues and the Law Students a few nights ago, it would appear that the honors were reversed, and that a "strong-man" proved the undoing of one of the athletes—Ask Alex Wilson. This newsy hockey match, on Monday should be well worth attending. The local team are known as the Hustlers, and are winners of the Independent league, and the visiting team from Calgary, the Ironquills, are said to

VARSITY-PENNANT GAME TONIGHT WILL DECIDE THE TITLE

Pennant's Line-up Will Be Shifted a Bit—"Pots" Newman Playing.

IN FINAL LEAGUE GAME STEEL HAS SORE ARM
Intermediate Game Billed to Follow the Main Event.

The northern provincial championship senior division, will be decided tonight at the south side rink, when Varsity and Pennants meet in their final game of the season. That it will be a good game, goes without saying, as the teams are tied, with three wins and one loss credited to each, and it will be anybody's game tonight, as two more evenly matched teams could not be found anywhere.

A new face will appear on the Pennant line-up, "Pots" Newman playing the center position, in place of Ross. The suggestion that "Doc" Carmichael be put back at cover, will not be carried out, as manager Pearce realizes that "Doc" is the mainstay of the Pennant's line. Jimmie Steel will occupy the cover-point position, and Jimmie Steel will be in his usual place at rover. Jimmie has had his arm in splints for the last five days, but expects no trouble from it tonight.

Varsity will be on hand with their strongest line-up. Claude in goal; Riley and Lupton, defence; Dean at rover; Russell at center; Dean and Wilkerson at forward. President's telephone from Calgary, late yesterday, stating definitely that this game in a sudden-death game, and decide the championship. The playing off of the tie game of a week ago, would necessitate the playing of several games, and it is the executive's desire to have the title decided at once, so that the winner may prepare to meet the Dominion for the provincial championship.

As said before, both teams are cut to win, and a great contest should result. Varsity will be on hand with a large crowd of supporters, but it is a mere matter of guess-work to pick the winner. Following the senior game the Pennant and Varsity intermediate will battle for league leadership, both teams being new on an even footing as is the case in the senior division. In the intermediate division, the Pennants have it over all the other teams in the league, and there is little doubt, but that they will clinch the title tonight once and for all.

The teams will lineup as follows: Pennants—Position.—Varsity: Wilson goal Claude Russell point Lupton J. Steele cover Riley Newman rover Dean Howe center Beckett Donahue wing Deitz Carmichael wing Wilson Referee, Harold Deaton.

be the fastest hand of youngsters in the south. The fact that the proceeds will go towards the establishment of a new hockey club, is worthy of special mention and support.

Curley Elton, trainer of the Eskimos, was the "big man" at the hockey game the other night. Curley was so elated over the victory that he could be heard over and above all the rest of the crowd put together—Can you blame him?

"Pink" Watt, formerly of this city and well known to the hockey and basketball players of Alberta, has the misfortune to be laid up in the Winnipeg hospital, for six weeks, owing to the necessity of having an operation on his hip.

Winnipeg, Feb. 6.—Winnipeg dogs again triumphed in the judging at the annual winter show of the western Canada kennel club here yesterday. The classes which were judged yesterday were all very heavy and Judge Cranfield of Vancouver had a busy time making the awards. Airdale, Irish terrier and shelties occupied most of the attention and dog outside dogs were in the pit list. Champion Eldestine first show owned by J. C. Fletcher, carried off the honors for the Airdale. W. E. Mermaguer, secured winners for dogs and terriers in the Irish terriers.

The show concludes tonight when the champion dog will be announced and the specials awarded.
